THE ALABAMA GREENBACKERS.

A Full State Ticket Put Into the Field.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 2.—The Greenback state convention has nominated the following state ticket:—For governor, J. M. Files of Walker county; for secretary of state, Patrick Tucker of Etowah; for auditor, W. G. W. Smith of Morgan; for superintendent of education, Dr. J. T. Masterton of Lawrence county.

After the news of the nomination of Jones for governor by the Democrats, in session at Montgomery, reached here the convention wired Kolb the Farmers' candidate before the Democratic convention, asking if he would accept the nominations of the greenbackers. He promptly replied "No." Files was then nominated. The Greenbackers are trying to consolidate the workingman and the farmer vote.

A SPECIAL SESSION.

The Illinois Legislature to be Called Together to Consider World's Fair Matters.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 2.—It was reported last evening that Governor Fifer will issue a proclamation convoking the general assembly in extra session, June 17. The call will be confined to the consideration of bills and resolutions relative to the world's fair, to be held at Chicago in 1892, including the submitting to the people of a constitutional amendment to permit Chicago to guarantee $5,000,000 bonds of the fair association. It is understood that it is not deemed advisable by the governor to include the subjects of taxation and compulsory education, as there is no emergency for action on these questions.

Seven and a Half Million Dollars for San Francisco Breweries.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—The Chronicle says:—Yesterday's mail brought the legal document consummating the sale of the ten principal breweries in this city to the English syndicate for $7,500,000.

Refused Permission to Spar in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—The police yesterday refused to allow Peter Jackson and Jake Ashton to spar two rounds in the Opera House.

Jumped Overboard in Sight of His Home.

MACHIAS, Me., June 2.—Fred Flynn, master of schooner Kate Foster, from Boston for Machiasport, when coming into the river in sight of his home Saturday morning jumped overboard and was drowned. It was probable that a succession of misfortunes had unbalanced his mind. His body was recovered. Flynn's wife died four years ago and two children are left.

He Jumped From Only One Bridge.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 2.—Seventeen-year-old Joe Russell of Ludlow, Ky., started out yesterday afternoon to jump from all four of the bridges across the Ohio river here, within three hours. At 1 o'clock he plunged from the middle span of the Chesapeake & Ohio bridge, one hundred and thirty feet above the channel. He struck the water with his left side and was so stunned that he was rescued with difficulty with the boat in waiting. He abandoned the idea of jumping from the other bridges.

The Governor Ames Was Not Ashore.

BOSTON, June 2.—The five-masted schooner Governor Ames arrived at this port last night from Philadelphia. Captain Davis states that the story that the vessel had been ashore on Nantucket shoals is entirely erroneous.

STOCKHOLM, June 2.—Rola, the parachutist, has been drowned at sea.

An Indiana Factory Burned.

News Items from Berlin.

BERLIN, June 2.—The Emperor drove out yesterday.

A royal order prescribes knee breeches and buckled shoes for the court.

The Emperor has promised to accede to the petitions to extend labor protection to the mercantile classes.

Down Went McGinty.

NEW YORK, June 2.—A special from Kansas City to the World says: A bare knuckle prize fight at Guthrie, Oklahoma, on Saturday night was witnessed by the mayor, city councilmen, army officers and several territorial officers, besides a number of women. Only seven rounds were fought, but they were bloody enough to suit the most eager patrons of the prize ring. Hoggatt, an unbeaten Oklahoma pugilist, was awarded the fight on a foul. McGinty, an unknown, was his opponent.

What Mexican Laborers Must Wear.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 2.—The city council has passed an ordinance compelling laborers on city works to wear pantaloons, instead of the loose cotton garment generally worn by the laboring classes. Similar regulations have been adopted in several other cities of Mexico and it is proposed to extend the rule to apply to all laborers, whether employed on public works or not.

Clarkson Says he is Not to Resign.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 2.—Assistant Postmaster General J. S. Clarkson was on the limited last night, going West, and he denied emphatically that he has ever sent in his resignation or that he ever contemplated resigning. He also denied the recent interview attributed to him in which he stated that President Harrison was suspicious of every man under him. He says that he would like to start a Republican weekly in New York city, if he had the money.

Killed by Lightning in Kansas.

HIAWATHA, Kansas, June 2.—Neal Henry, a prominent citizen of Doniphan county, was instantly killed at Severance last night by lightning.

The Newfoundland Fisheries.

HALIFAX, N. S., June 2.—Mr. R. P. Bowers, one of the people's delegates from Newfoundland to Canada, arrived in the city last evening on his way home. He expressed himself more than satisfied with the result of the delegation's visit. On the subject of the address to the British government, he did not think it was too strong, but that it just met the case. In regard to the recent trouble at Bay St. George, he said that these outrages had been going on for years and had been endured by the people. The people in St. John's knew little about them, owing to the distance and the lack of means of communication and as it was to the interest of both the French and English to conceal the facts. Newfoundland has thus to fight both. The people, he said, are now fully aroused and the facts will now be made known to the world. The French shore, which is the cause of this difficulty, extends along the most fertile and richest mineral land of the island. The nets that were destroyed by the French sailors must have been in some places within one hundred yards of the shore.

CHARGED WITH FORGERY.

A Former Superintendent of a Boston Mission in Trouble.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The police have arrested Byron Benedict, a man of clerical appearance who is about 30 years old. He has been a prisoner at police headquarters since Friday last. Benedict was once prominent in philanthropic work in Boston, having been connected with the North End Mission and other charitable institutions in that city. He is now charged with forgery. He came here about eight weeks ago and found employment as bookkeeper with James McEntee & Co., plumbers, at 1,031 Ninth avenue. A few days ago he left McEntee's employ, and it was found that the books did not balance. Investigation showed that he had collected money which he had not turned in to his employers. It was also found that he had forged checks in his employers' name and obtained the money. When taken into custody he had a forged check for $720 in his pocket. The prisoner is a single man. He was for years the steward of the North End Mission in Boston and for three years the superintendent for the Home for Friendless Boys at Dedham, Mass. Benedict came to this city highly recommended. The amount of his defalcations has not yet been ascertained.

A General Strike of Lumbermen in Calais, Me.

CALAIS, Me., June 2.—The men employed on the hemlock wharves of H. F. Eaton & Sons struck this morning for $1.50 per day and succeeded in inducing nearly all the men in the place, handling lumber to join them. The wharves are practically deserted and unless the matter is speedily settled the mills will probably have to shut down.

The Duke and Duchess of Connaught.

TORONTO, Ont., June 2.—The Duke and Duchess of Connaught passed through here last night on the Canadian Pacific main line to Montreal where they arrived this morning. Tomorrow they will leave Montreal for Ottawa, where they will remain a day and returning to Montreal, will go right through to Halifax, thence to Duluth, a fishing station on the coast, where they will rest for a few days before embarking at Quebec for England.

The Usual Result.

DENVER, Col., June 2.—Mrs. A. Morrow yesterday attempted to start a fire with kerosene. The can exploded and the woman, her boy of three years and a girl of sixteen were burned to death.

VICTORIA A MEMBER OF THE HONORABLE ARTILLERY.

We are enabled to announce that Queen Victoria has virtually become a member of the Honorable Artillery Company of London, and that she has recently been requested to append her name to the long and brilliant roll of royal, noble and distinguished individuals who have become members of that ancient organization. The Queen was graciously pleased to comply with the request of the corps to add her name to the lengthening roll of her royal predecessors and relatives who have commanded the company during the three hundred and fifty years of its continuous existence. Accordingly, the two large volumes of original records and signatures were lately conveyed to Windsor Castle by Lieutenant Colonel G. A. Raikes, F. S. A., the able and laborious historian of this company. A most interesting interview, or audience, we should say, was had, and the Queen took ample time to look over the vellum pages now growing brown with age, which bear upon them the signatures of so many of her "illustrious predecessors" upon the throne of England, as well as some three hundred other distinguished men whose names have gone to the world's end in fame.

Queen Victoria expressed herself greatly pleased with the examination, for there she found the original signatures with the dates attached of King Charles II; her uncle, the Duke of Clarence, afterward King William IV, "the sailor king," and her immediate predecessor upon the throne; her uncle, George IV, commander of the Honorables, as Prince of Wales; her uncles, the royal Dukes of Sussex, Cumberland and Cambridge; her husband, the Prince Consort, and her eldest son, the Prince of Wales, and perhaps the name of her own honored father, Edward, Duke of Kent, for by Colonel Raikes's history we notice that he assisted his father, King George III, at a review of the corps in Hyde Park on June 4, 1799. There are also among the noble and brilliant names those of John Churchill, first Duke of Marlborough, Prince Rupert, the Duke of Albemarle, the Dukes of Buckingham and Monmouth. Sir Samuel Pepys of the famous diary, Sir Christopher Wren, who built St. Paul's Cathedral and many others equally celebrated in civil or military life. John Milton, the great poet and statesman of Cromwell's time, was a member, having been admitted June 2, 1635, being then in his 27th year.—[London despatch to Boston Traveller.

NOVELTIES IN JEWELRY.

An attractive bouquet holder is formed of an oxidized silver snake.

Pretty cuff links are formed by a pear joined to a twig, both being finished in gold.

A unique silver bonbonniere of recent production represents an ancient Egyptian vase.

A late novelty is a silver belt buckle formed by a hand extending a boathook. A coil of rope encircles the buckle.

A Turkish fez of gold, with a diamond suspended from the tassel, makes a remarkably pretty queen chain pendant.

Bright finish, with a centaur etched on the front, constitutes the ornamentation of a shaving cup of late production.

A lace pin consisting of a variegated gold snake coiled around an oak branch, and having a large diamond suspended from its mouth in the centre of the ornament, attracts considerable attention.—[Jewellers' Weekly.

A lapidary at Denver, Col., has just finished a novel necklace for a New York lady. It is composed of the beautiful stones found in Colorado and New Mexico known as the peridot, a species of chrysolite, ranging in various shades of green and bearing a resemblance to the emerald. There are in all 35 gems, running from one to four carats in size, and they are perfectly massed and finely cut. It took six weeks to make the trinket, and 400 stones were cut to obtain perfect specimens. The necklace was sold for $1,000.

FINANCIAL.

NEW YORK, June 2.—Wall Street. Opening prices: Canada Southern, 59⅝; Lackawanna, 141½; Lake Shore, 112⅝; Louisville & Nashville, 89⅞; Missouri Pacific, 76¼; Oregon Transcontinental, 47⅝; Reading, 46¼; Texas Pacific, 21½; Union Pacific, 66⅝; New York & New England, 48⅞; Sugar Trust, 77; Lead Trust, 21.

11 A. M.—The stock market opened ¼ @ ½ lower for the active stocks this morning in sympathy with the London market, but the depression was short-lived and a strong tone was immediately developed at the concession and material advances were scored in the first half hour's trading. The improvement, however, induced freer selling and in some cases all of the improvement was lost. Chicago Gas, Sugar and Atchison were most prominent in the early rise, gaining 2 per cent., 1¾ and 1½, respectively, while Missouri Pacific and Lake Shore each rose ⅞, and others smaller fractions. Sugar, St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville, Oregon Transcontinental and some others were weakest on the decline, but Atchison, Chicago Gas and Lake Shore were well held. Atchison, Chicago Gas, Sugar and Lake Shore were the specially active stocks, but there was an active trading in most of the usually prominent stocks. Sugar, just before 11 o'clock, dropped sharply and went below last week's lowest price, touching 73. At 11 o'clock the market was fairly active and steady at but slight changes from the opening prices.

Noon.—Money on call, easy at 4 @ 5 per cent.; prime mercantile paper, 5½ @ 6½; bar silver, 103¼; exchange, quiet and steady; actual rates, $4.84¼ for sixty days, and $4.86 @ ¼ for demand; posted rates, $4.85 @ 7; governments, dull and steady; 4s reg., 121; 4s coup., 122; 4½s reg., 103⅛; 4½s coup., 103⅛; railroad bonds, quiet but firm; Pacific, 6s, 113½. Outside of Sugar and Missouri Pacific, there was little activity in the stock market after 11 o'clock, but, while there was a drooping tendency in prices, they were as a rule fairly well maintained. Missouri Pacific was specially weak and dropped to 75¾, against 75 at its best, while Sugar recovered to 75 and fell away again to below 74. The movements in the remainder of the market were small and possessed little significance, and the market at noon was dull and steady, generally at small fractions below first prices.

Railroad earnings continue to show about 10 per cent. increase in gross over last year. Though the average rate per ton per mile received today is only one half that received in 1873, the cost per ton per mile has been reduced one-half and the tons of freight carried one mile have increased 120 per cent. over 1873. Consolidation, amalgamation and rate combinations have become the order of the day, as illustrated in the New England states, the Northwest and Southwest. Already negotiations have been entered into to combine all the anthracite coal roads under one management. The Northwest, St. Paul and Union Pacific are fast reaching the point where they will be controlled by one corporation. In the Southwest the same conditions exist. The result must lessen competition, reduce cost of operation and lower the rate of interest on bond issues. With these conditions existing it is not surprising that the public have again come into the market as purchasers, thereby advancing prices.—[J. A. Evans & Co., New York and Boston.

FOR NINE HOURS.

A General Movement among Laborers in New Bedford.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., June 2.—The new order of things in the move for nine hours without reduction of wages was inaugurated today. Most of the masons are working on the new schedules. A number of masons' tenders, who had been working for less than union prices, have struck work. Carpenters and wood workers are also in for nine hours, but as yet it is difficult to state how things will terminate. Some have struck work and many have consented to keep on at ten hours until later. Several of the bosses have acceded to the demands of their men.

AN ENUMERATOR'S TRIALS.

Driven Out of a New York Saloon by Empty Bottles.

NEW YORK, June 2.—An evening paper states that Louis Marks, one of the census enumerators, was today driven out of Bernard Smith's saloon at 235 East 45th street. Marks says Smith ordered him out of his place and said if he found him in the house again he would break his neck. As he went through the door several glasses were thrown at him. Said Marks:—"Smith chased me up the street and was joined by several others. On Second avenue I found a policeman who accompanied me back to the saloon. In spite of the policeman's presence Smith refused to give me any information and called me the most abusive names. The policeman did not interfere and the last I saw of him, as I went from the saloon, he was drinking a glass of beer." Supervisor Murray told Marks to make a formal report of the affair, which will be referred to the authorities at Washington.

A SPECIAL SESSION.

Governor Davis to Call the Legislature Together This Month.

PROVIDENCE, May 2.—There was a gathering of the clans at the State House this noon and Governor Davis was waited on by a large delegation of Democrats, who are anxious for an extra session of the legislature. It was decided to call a special session at Providence, as early as possible this month. The chief reason for it is that a large number of bills that had passed one house were left on the table in the other, among them a great many charters for corporations.

THE CENSUS.

How the Enumeration is Going on in New York.

NEW YORK, June 2.—The census enumerators are out in force here today. Up to noon no unfavorable reports were heard from, except perhaps that they are subject to petty annoyances by the New York boys. Early today many applications were received at headquarters in Eighth street for printed blanks so that they might be filled in and thus avoid either a visit from or a collision with the enumerator. Beginning with tomorrow, under the rule, no reporters will be allowed to follow the census takers.

The Women of England Want Suffrage.

LONDON, June 2.—The Women's Liberal Federation will present a memorial to Mr. Gladstone asking him to include the granting of the franchise to women in the program of issues to be settled at the next general election for members of Parliament.

The Democratic State Central Committee.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 2.—The Democratic state central committee met in Brownson Lyceum Hall this afternoon and elected the following officers: Franklin P. Owen, chairman; Elisha W. Bucklin, secretary; Oscar Lapham, treasurer.

Pennsylvania Stone Cutters Strike.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 2.—The stone cutters of Pittsburg and Allegheny, to the number of seven hundred, struck this morning for an advance in wages of four cents an hour. They are now receiving $3.60 per day and want $4.05.

Crete's Ruler Summoned to England.

CANEA, Crete, June 2.—Chakir Pasha, governor of Crete, has been summoned to Constantinople by the Turkish government.

Three More Drowned on the Banks.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., June 2.—Schooner Louise J. Kenny arrived today from the Banks, and reports that Captain John Gourville, and Raymond White and J. H. Cary of this port were drowned May 24, while attending trawls. Captain Gourville was a native of France but had followed fishing from here for several years and was very successful. He leaves a widow and children. White was a native of Arichat, Cape Breton, and was single.

Walking on the Water.

BALTIMORE, June 2.—Professor Charles W. Oldrieve, the young aquatic expert of Massachusetts, gave an exhibition of walking on the water yesterday at Fair View, near here. He walked out a half mile, exploding bombs all the way. His effort was a great success.

A New York Engagement.

NEW YORK, June 2.—An evening paper says: Some surprise was occasioned today by the announcement of the engagement of Mr. Miles Standish VI, as his cards read, and Mrs. A. Farrington, the young widow of the former United States consul at one of the larger Spanish ports and a sister of Mr. Charles Lanier, the well-known banker. Mrs. Farrington is a tall and handsome woman and has a fortune in her own right. Mr. Standish is a Bostonian who has lived many years in New York and is a lineal descendant of the redoubtable Miles Standish of the Plymouth colony. Mr. Standish and Mrs. Farrington will be married next month.

A Portuguese Novelist Dead.

LISBON, June 2.—Senhor Branco, the novelist, is dead.

A Considerate Suicide.

BOSTON, June 2.—Frank E. Chandler, aged about 60 and without steady employment, committed suicide at his lodging house on Bowdoin street this morning. His landlady had been kind to him, and, doubtless with the intention to avoid soiling the carpet or furnishings of the room, he projected his body half way out of an open window and cut his throat with a razor.

An Office Abolished.

BOSTON, June 2.—The office of assistant deputy naval officer of the port of Boston has been abolished upon an order from the Treasury Department.

A Fatal Fire in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 2.—Shortly after 2 o'clock this morning fire started in the second floor of the building at 1,023 Franklin avenue, which was occupied as a tenement by several families. George Wolf and family had rooms in the front part of the building and Charles Hausse and family occupied the rear apartments. The flames had gained such headway when discovered that it was with the greatest difficulty the firemen succeeded in rescuing any of the inmates. The aged father of George Wolf was suffocated by smoke. Mrs. Wolf and her two small children were burned, but will recover. Mrs. Charles Hausse and her seven year old son were frightfully burned and their recovery is doubtful. The fire is supposed to have originated in a paint shop on the first floor. The damage to property is $10,000.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

WASHINGTON, June 2.

Senate.

A conference was ordered on the naval appropriation bill.

Petitions were presented from New Hampshire and Vermont against further concessions to the Pacific railroads and in favor of the government taking possession of them, and from Connecticut, in favor of the increase of duties on hats, proposed in the McKinley bill.

The resolution, heretofore offered by Mr. Spooner, calling on the Attorney General for information as to the practice of the United States courts at Fort Smith, Ark., and Paris, Texas, in regard to offenses in the Indian Territory was taken up, discussed and agreed to.

Mr. Dawes gave notice that he would tomorrow ask the Senate to censure the fortification bill.

The silver bill was taken up and Mr. Morrell addressed the Senate.

House.

On motion of Mr. Burrows of Michigan the motion to reconsider the vote by which the House ordered to a conference the bill for the relief of A. H. Emery was laid on table. The bill therefore goes into conference.

JAMESTOWN.

Mr. Daniel Hazard and family of Newport arrived at their summer cottage Saturday.

Mr. P. H. Horgan has men at work putting earthen pipes at the foot of Union street to take the surface water which flows down that thoroughfare to the wharf across Walcott avenue to the sea.

Steamer Conanicut on a trip from here yesterday returned to the wharf for several passengers. In doing this both rudders were in use and, while attempting to fasten the forward one while the boat was in motion, the force of the water caused the rudder to swing suddenly, which threw Mate Ambrust over the wheel in the pilot house, causing several bad bruises. It was a narrow escape from a painful accident.

As a single horse dray, loaded with goods for Mr. J. P. Green, was proceeding up the wharf this morning the horse suddenly reeled and fell, breaking one shaft of the dray. After clearing him from the shaft the horse was on his feet immediately, evidently none the worse for the accident. The supposition by those who saw the accident is that the horse was choked by his collar.

Mrs. Joseph Bannigan of Woonsocket was in Jamestown today.

Mr. David Allen of Newport has been engaged to build a ticket office for the ferry company. It will be located on the south side of wharf near the scales, the larger portion extending over the water. The roof connecting the balances with the platform of the scales will be lengthened in order to allow the scales to be operated in the office. The building will be 8x10 feet in diameter and will have a tin roof.

Mr. D. C. Watson has the misfortune to have a neighbor who is opposed to hens, especially if the hens belong to someone else and accidentally get on his premises. Mr. Watson has already lost four of his fine flock of hens, and it is understood that the neighbor owns to the mischief.

Mr. P. H. Horgan has commenced a building to be used as a cook house for his hotel, to be located in the rear.

Mr. Daniel Watson has rented, for Mr. Edwin Knowles, his cottage, situated on Canonicus avenue, to Captain C. M. Chester of Peekskill, N. Y., for the season.

THE BAPTIST ANNIVERSARIES.

At the First Baptist Church yesterday Rev. Mr. Tuller gave an account of the anniversary meeting of the missionary societies of the denomination in Chicago. These meetings were held for eight days, closing on Wednesday evening last with a great mass meeting in The Auditorium. Over eighteen hundred delegates were present, representing all the states of the Union. Besides these delegates, large numbers of people gathered at the various sessions. Great enthusiasm was manifested, large advances in every department were reported and broad plans for the future were adopted.

The Publication Society reports a business and missionary work of $595,000 for the past year. It has published thirty-three million copies of books, pamphlets, etc., and thirty one million copies of periodicals. It has employed one hundred and thirty two colporteurs, who have scattered nearly 23,000 Bibles and 39,000 books, baptized seven hundred and nineteen, constituted fifty-three churches and organized five hundred and forty-five Sunday schools.

The Foreign Missionary Society reports thirty-three new men appointed last year and thirty-five new missionaries under appointment; 5,592 were baptized in the missions among the heathen, and 5,522 in the European missions; $440,000 was spent last year. Total number of missionaries, 331; preachers, 1,736; churches, 1,261; entire membership in heathen and European missions, 138,203, an increase of 3,980 members the past year. It was voted to raise twice as much money by donation the coming year as was given last year, and to expend $800,000 this coming year.

The Home Missionary Society reports eight hundred and thirty three missionaries in their employ, nearly three times the number employed ten years ago. These missionaries are scattered in forty-seven states and territories, Canada, Alaska and Mexico; sixty-three new mission stations have been established during the past year; $419,444 expended; eighty-seven churches helped from the church edifice fund, and seven new churches built every month.

Great interest was centered in the report of the Education Society, stating that $1,200,000 has been raised for the establishment of a university in Chicago. Of this amount Mr. John D. Rockefeller had given $600,000 with the promise that a million dollars should be raised. Mr. Marshall Field gave a beautiful tract of land containing twenty acres near the great South Park, with the same provision. The total amount has been raised. A very touching incident occurred in the raising of $27,000 by the Jewish merchants of Chicago to assist in the enterprise.

The growth of the denomination for the past ten years was given. There have been baptized an average of three hundred and forty-four persons a day for the last ten years, and the denomination now has over three million communicants. Doubtless great results will follow from these eight days of crowded sessions.

At these meetings Rev. Mr. Tuller was elected a member of the board of managers of the Missionary Union. At the morning service at the First Church yesterday the hand of fellowship was given to six new members, two of these young men. The interest aroused by the reports was indicated in a large collection for missionary purposes, taken at the close of the evening service.

LOCAL NOTES.

—Councilman McCormick is in New York.

—Chief Engineer Jones of the New Hampshire is on leave.

—Among the arrivals are Mr. W. T. Bull and Mr. J. H. Glover.

—Schooner G. B. Reynolds has been chartered to load coal at Norfolk for Saco, Maine.

—A young Newfoundland dog, the property of Mr. F. A. Daniels, was killed on Bath road yesterday by one of the tow cars.

—Mr. C. A. Hammett, who was recently injured by being thrown from his bicycle by a dog, has so far recovered as to be able to visit his office.

—Labor matters are quiet in Newport just now, but the carpenters, masons and masons' tenders at New Bedford are in the midst of a fight for nine hours, and the latter two will be addressed by Mr. O'Flynn of this city.

—The Forepaugh circus has billed Newport quite extensively, asking circus goers to wait for their show, which is coming soon. The Forepaugh show is not to exhibit here until July 22, nearly seven weeks hence.

—Training ship Jamestown is expected at the Training Station this week. Before going on the cruising ships all the boys will be given a last treat in the shape of a visit to Washburn & Arlington's circus on Wednesday.

—Mr. Augustus Crocker, brother of Mr. F. A. Crocker, formerly of this city, died in New York a few days ago. The deceased, who was unmarried, was an enthusiastic yachtsman. He invariably accompanied Mr. Lloyd Phoenix on schooner yacht Intrepid.

—The first result of that part of the punishment meted out to Commander McCalla by the recent court martial stopping his promotion will take effect on Monday if the President approves the recommendation of the naval retiring board for the retirement of Commander Allan D. Brown. The retirement will advance Commander French E. Chadwick, commanding the Yorktown, over the head of Commander McCalla. It is estimated that McCalla will lose from twelve to fifteen numbers during his three years' suspension.

In the probate court today letters of administration were granted to George T. Downing, on the estate of Georgina F. Downing; to William P. Peckham, on the estate of Sarah Peckham; to W. H. Watson, on the estate of George M. Meredith. The will of Samuel C. Clinton was approved and Charles H. Williams appointed executor; the will of Samuel C. Bailey, received some time ago, was admitted to probate and Susan C. Bailey appointed executrix. Notice of contest of the will of Phebe Bateman, which had already been admitted to probate, was received.

The porcelain painting which has been brought here today, to be placed on exhibition at the Loan Collection, is a copy by Wagner of a painting by Balthasar Denner of Hamburg, who died in 1747. His style may be called microscopical, his works executed with the utmost patience, not a spot or hair or one of his subjects escaping him. Four years on a single portrait was none too long a time for Denner. The "Head of an old Woman," the original of the picture to be shown here, cost Charles VI 4,700 florins. Denner's pictures are not common. The best known are two each in the Munich, Dresden and Vienna galleries and in the Louvre.

—At the meeting of the City Council tomorrow evening a petition will be presented from several summer residents setting forth the embarrassments which they experience from the running of electric cars upon Bath road, and asking the council to build a street along the west side of Easton's pond and to authorize the laying of the rails of the street railway upon it, so that cars may run upon the new street, instead of Bath road as at present. If the petition is referred to the highway committee, which would be the natural course, the committee will probably be able to report at the first meeting in July, with an estimate of cost. The proposition will then take the form of a resolution to submit the question of expenditure of money to the people.

SHIPPING NOTES.

Steamer Ocean View, Captain L. A. Dodge, of Block Island, has completed her scrapping season, and after painting her bottom on Eddy's ways, was today launched and proceeded to Block Island, where she will be used for sword fishing and excursions this summer. This is the Ocean View's sixth season with Captain W. J. Brightman, and during this time she has not missed a day's trip to Sakonnet, going out when other steamers remained at the dock.

Cutter Sharon of Providence, which was laid up at Warwick the past winter, has been painted at Eddy's, where Mr. A. B. Emmons's schooner yacht is hauled up for her spring repairs.

Sloop yacht Thama went outside this noon.

Mr. J. M. Fiske's steam yacht Theresa arrived this morning.

Captain Dan Sheehan has launched his new catboat Honoree, which now lies at Kinsley's wharf, ready for her sail, which will be bent on Thursday. The Honoree is a very well-built and able-looking craft, 24 feet, 5 inches long and 12 feet wide. She has a very large cockpit, which is finished in cherry, and a commodious cabin, finished in quartered oak and ash, giving the boat a very neat appearance. The mast is 36 feet, boom 31 feet, hoist of sail 24 feet, length of centreboard 10 feet. The boat was built by Mr. Theodore Bishop, from his own plans, in a loft off Burnside avenue, and the launch was more than the usual undertaking for a boat of her size.

The obsequies of the late James H. Coggeshall, ex-United States marshal for Rhode Island, were solemnized at noon Saturday at St. Stephen's Church, Providence. Rev. George McClellan Fiske, D. D., officiating, assisted by Rev. Mr. Jackson and Rev. Mr. Corcoft. There were a large number of the friends of the deceased present. The burial at Swan Point was private.

MONDAY, JUNE 2, 1890.

Woonsocket appropriates $1,200 for a Fourth of July celebration.

The Oregon election occurs today, and is expected to result favorably for the Republicans.

The public bathing houses of Boston are now open for daily use, but business in that line is rather dull.

The Jews in this country are coming to the front. They have just subscribed $27,000 for the Baptist university at Chicago.

The census takers move on the country today. There are about 35,000 of them. They ask questions and the people give the answers which go to make up the record.

The English government has at last taken notice of the frequent instances of starvation in London, and an official investigation of some cases of recent occurrence is now being made for the benefit of Parliament.

Now that Speaker Reed has banished rum from the House restaurant the thirsty members who do not like to carry a flask go over to the Senate restaurant for refreshments. The Senate should not allow their feeding place to be made a swill trough.

The political managers are determined that the voters in New York shall know how to use the Australian ballot when election day comes, and voting schools, mock elections and other similar expedients are being used to familiarize the voters with the system.

The Loan Exhibition of miniatures and small paintings opens at the store of Messrs. Howard & Co., on Bellevue avenue, tomorrow. The ladies in charge have secured an extensive collection of rare pictures, and their study will not be an inspiration only, but also an education, to all who visit the place.

A proposition to change the college course at Harvard University from four years to three is being discussed by the faculty and friends of the college. There is a divided feeling on the matter and the change, if made at all, is not likely to come for several years. The voice of undergraduates is almost unanimous against shortening the course.

No one need worry over Confederate monuments in the South. This country is big enough to hold all the statues which people may put up, and it is sometimes important to be able to point to evil examples the better to show off the good ones to advantage. The remembrance of Grant fighting for his country will outweigh anything that can be done in behalf of Lee for fighting against it.

The Springfield Republican speaks of Bar Harbor as a town "which passes in the summer time as a watering place and in the winter as a desert waste on a bleak and barren coast." That brings out one of the great points of difference between Bar Harbor and our own Newport, which as a city of 20,000 permanent residents is no more a "desert waste" in winter than in summer.

The Democrats of Georgia have nominated Colonel Thomas U. Jones for governor, the Farmers' or Kolb faction withdrawing its candidate's name on the final ballot and making the nomination unanimous. The Georgia Democracy now presents a solid front and the utmost harmony apparently prevails. The Greenback convention which was waiting to see if Kolb was nominated by the Democrats will put a full party ticket in the field.

Rev. W. A. Smith, who was formerly pastor of the Perkins Street Baptist Church, Boston, died recently in Seattle, Washington. Rev. Mr. Smith was born in Cincinnati in 1817; graduated from Brown University in 1870; studied law in Albany, and practiced the profession about five years. He gave up law for the ministry and preached in Hamilton, O., and in Cincinnati. He went to the Perkins Street Baptist Church in July, 1881, and resigned in March, 1889.

The silver question will be the chief topic of discussion in the Senate during the week. Senators Pugh, Morrill and Hiscock will be the first speakers. Senator Allison will call up today the report on the army appropriation bill, and some discussion may ensue upon the canteen clause. The conference report on the anti-trust bill is also ready for presentation, and may possibly be brought before Congress for action this week. In the House today is suspension day under the rules and tomorrow either the silver bill or the postponed McDuffie vs. Turbin Alabama election case is to come up. An effort is being made to secure consideration for the bankruptcy bill, and, as the leaders are disposed to test public feeling in the matter, one day during the week may be allotted for its consideration. The postoffice appropriation bill is one of two probable subjects for early action.

TOO GOOD BY HALF!

The story is told of a New Jersey legislator who put the Newark elevated railroad bill in his pocket when he took a sudden trip West and who thus prevented its passage. He says he pocketed the bill in order to hinder certain persons from imperilling their souls by accepting boodle for its passage, and thinks he acted nobly.

Some people will be inclined to wonder if Senator Thornley engineered the senate adjournment at the late session of the General Assembly for an equally pious reason. He succeeded in killing ballot reform as applied to the four cities in Rhode Island by an equally artful method of procedure, and it is barely possible that he saw wickedness in the eyes of the members of the lower house, and to hinder their vile purposes hied away on the earliest train, having first induced the senate to adjourn on the plea that nothing could be safely done in his absence. The world lives to learn how truly good some men may be in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation.

CIVIL SERVICE METHODS.

When Grover Cleveland came to the office of President of the United States he found a Republican postmaster of good repute in the city of Buffalo and allowed him to remain to the expiration of his full term. The successor whom he appointed has proven equally acceptable to the people and there was a general desire that he should be allowed to remain to the end of the term for which he was appointed. In this the Republicans and Democrats were agreed, but Thomas C. Platt, who does not live in Buffalo, demanded the place for one of his henchmen, and though President Harrison was himself averse to the change he was compelled by the New York boss to make it a year or so in advance. This is not in the line of a true civil service system, which calls for appointments to office and changes in the service for the benefit of the public, rather than in the interest of aspiring politicians. But as things go the President could scarcely do better than he did. Platt is one of the most unscrupulous and contemptible politicians in the country, but he practically controls the state so far as his party is concerned, and his edicts in such affairs must be obeyed. The case illustrates the necessity of having all such matters fixed by law and so fixed that the offices shall cease to be looked upon as public plunder. Much has been already done in that direction and still more remains to be accomplished.

GOVERNOR HILL'S PLANS.

Governor Hill of New York has a project under way which he hopes will land him in the Presidential chair. His term as governor of the Empire state expires January 1, 1892, six months before the assembling of the convention which will nominate the Democratic candidate for the Presidency. In order that he may be continued in official life up to the time of the convention, he will endeavor to secure control of the next legislature of the state and be elected to the United States Senate to succeed Hon. William M. Evarts. There is to be only one state officer to be elected next fall, that of judge of the court of appeals, to succeed Judge Earle. The Republicans have decided to hold no state convention, but Governor Hill thinks it will be of service to the Democratic party and stir up an enthusiasm to aid the assembly election if the Democrats meet in convention. The chairman of the state committee, who is a Hill man, will soon issue a call for the state convention, hoping thus to raise a big hurrah and create unusual interest throughout the state for the legislative elections. The governor proposes to make the hottest contest known since 1876 in all the assembly districts in the state, and he is convinced that the Republican majority in the senate which will hold over next year can be overcome on joint ballot by gains in the assembly. It is not unlikely that state headquarters will be opened in New York, as in Presidential and gubernatorial years. Mayor Chapin of Brooklyn is believed to be in the scheme with Hill, with the expectation that the gubernatorial nomination will come to him. The Republicans have started their campaign and the liveliest sort of a fight is promised from now until November.

A BIT OF HISTORY AND A CORNER-STONE.

The men who signed the compact for the settlement of the island were, as Mr. Callender states, "Puritans of the highest form." Sympathizing with Mr. Wheelwright, they were compelled to leave the Massachusetts colony and come to Rhode Island.

Disappointed in their expectation of having Mr. Wheelwright as their pastor, no church of their denomination was formed until the year 1695. Governor Coddington, one of the prominent settlers, joined the Quakers on their arrival in 1656, and the Baptist church became the home of many others, while some, apparently, attached themselves to no denomination.

In the year 1695 the beginning was made of a Congregational church by the agreement of the Boston pastors to send ministers for the "evangelization of the plantations bordering upon the Massachusetts province." Dr. Clap, in his journal written about 1720, says:—"By near a score of ministers, coming one after another, one week after another, the Gospel was preached here, all the summer of the year 1695, unto a number of people, whom the ministers willing to keep together, advised one to come and preach here the following winter; after which they urged him to abide here, from time to time, until more than a score of years had rolled away."

In 1698 a small house of worship was built in Tanner street, near Green lane. On the third of November, 1720, Rev. Nathaniel Clap, a graduate from Harvard College in 1720, held in high esteem for his piety, learning and pulpit talents, was ordained as pastor, remaining until his death fifty years later. Under his care the church prospered so that in 1728 it was decided to build a new house of worship. This house, now owned by Mr. Thomas Burlingham, was built on land given by Benedict Arnold, in the year 1729. An interesting account of the manners of that time is obtained from the bill, still preserved, of the expenses of "Dressing the Raising Dinner" when on the first day one hundred and twenty-three men were entertained, on the second day ninety-five, on the third fifty-six, and forty-four men on the fourth day, when the raising seems to have been completed. One sheep, forty-six pounds of veal from Squire Brenton's farm, with liquors to the amount of over seven pounds, were consumed. Cotton Palmer of Providence, who superintended the framing, was boarded for thirteen weeks by Jonathan Chace, who furnished the raising dinner. The house still stands; the corner-stone, with the inscription "For Christ and Peace, 1729," shows the purpose of its erection, and where Clap, Searing, Vinal, Hopkins, Beecher, Brooks and Channing have preached, now is heard the voice of the veteran auctioneer Burlingham.

This building has had a number of owners since it was sold by its first occupants. The present owner, Mr. Burlingham, has generously acceded to the request of the United Congregational Church—the direct descendant of the old church—that the old corner-stone may be removed and placed in the foundation of their present building, and it is hoped soon to have the date of the establishment of the church fixed in its new position.

The records of the churches of Newport furnish a splendid supply of material for the history of a period little known, the years just preceding and including the period of the Revolution, when nearly everything but these were destroyed, and the historian can glean from these papers more than from any other sources the manner and customs of our fathers.

THE ART OF HITTING A HOSTILE SHIP.

The mode of guessing is peculiar, and can be done in either of two ways—by the "successive method," or by the "progressive method." "Successively," the procedure is as follows:—The hostile ship presumably stands still. We fire a shot at her. It falls short. We fire another, at higher elevation. It goes over her. We use the mean range of the two shots for the third shot, and so on, thus continually narrowing the belt in which the enemy's ship is situated. Of course our adversary might be inconsiderate enough to get out of the way, or even to strike back; but there is the system. "Progressively," we fire a shot at the enemy to miss by not going far enough, which is not difficult. Next time we send the projectile a little farther, and then again still further, until finally the enemy is struck. Meanwhile, we keep adjusting the sight bar of our gun, which is marked for different distances in yards, and when the hit is made its reading is noted. These two cut and try systems are in actual use by the navies of the world as the most practical means of range-finding; otherwise the non-military mind might rush to the conclusion that they impute less common-sense to one of the antagonists than is possessed by the ordinary jack-rabbit. But until now experience and invention have been able to discover nothing better; for crude as these systems are they are preferred to methods involving the use of the sextant and slow mathematical computations. * * *

The latest advance in the art of finding distances at sea has been made in this country, and results have been obtained which show that the problem of making accurate and quick range measurements by automatic means has finally been solved. Flagship Chicago of the squadron of evolution, now in Europe, sailed from New York equipped with a range-finding apparatus which, on actual test over distances of 1,500 yards, determines the position of objects with an error not exceeding six-tenths of one per cent. of the entire distance. Or, in other words, if a gun were laid at 1,500 yards by reason of the indication of the apparatus, its shot would strike within nine yards of the actual point aimed at. This error is not equal to one-tenth of the length of an ordinary iron-clad, and is but little over one-half the breadth of beam of such a ship. Furthermore, the measurement is made instantaneously and automatically, and without calculation of any sort, and whether the object be moving or stationary. The new cruiser Baltimore has been fitted with an apparatus of the same type, which has given results with a still smaller margin of error. Its application to other national vessels will probably follow.

The invention was made by Lieutenant Bradley A. Fiske of the navy, an officer who has already achieved reputation for his huge mortar adaptations of the electric motor to the working of gun carriages and to the hoisting of shot and shell. The apparatus is by no means complicated, and involves nothing but simple elementary principles in mathematics and electricity. It is based on the familiar mathematical proposition that if two angles and one side of a triangle are known, the other sides of the triangle can easily be found. The Fiske range-finder, however, eliminates all calculations, and finds the range automatically. A base-line fixed once for all on the ship is the known side of the imaginary triangle. The distance of the object is represented by either of the other two sides. The target, therefore, is at one angle of the imaginary triangle, and at the other angles, at the extremities of the fixed base-line, are placed two spy-glasses, which can be directed upon it. As these telescopes are turned into the proper position they move over and touch wires which are bent in the forms of arcs. The difference in length of the wires passed over corresponds mathematically to the distance of the object. As this length of wire increases or diminishes, it will offer more or less resistance to an electrical current sent through it. A very simple electrical contrivance, amounting practically to a balance, allows of this resistance being measured and read, not in units of resistance, but in yards. The disposition as well as the form of the apparatus undergoes modifications depending upon the conditions under which it is to be used, but, generally speaking, it works in this way. The two spy-glasses are pointed at the target. The observer at each spy-glass has nothing to do but to keep it thus pointed. Elsewhere in the ship another observer may stand with a telephone to his ear, listening to a buzzing sound produced by an electrical device known as a circuit breaker, and simultaneously moving with one hand a pointer over a graduated scale. The instant the buzzing in the telephone stops he reads the range denoted by the pointer from the scale; or, instead of using the telephone, a galvanometer may be employed, which will show by its needle pointing to zero the moment when the desired balance is obtained. And then from a scale, which may be adjusted near to one of the telescopes, the range can be read. To keep the telescopes directed on the enemy requires no more skill than does the manipulation of a field-glass. The officer at the scale has nothing to do but watch the pointer and read the range at once and as often as he chooses, and then convey the information in any way to the men at the guns. This he can do by a simple form of telegraph, if need be. The whole operation of measuring the range is the work of a very few seconds. The great simplicity of the apparatus (for it has no mirrors or delicate parts liable to be broken or disturbed by the concussion of heavy guns, or to be injured by exposure to the weather) commends it to the engineer in less degree only than its remarkable and hitherto unexampled accuracy.

The advantage which the ship thus provided has over her adversary is obvious. In the language of pugilism, she has "a longer reach." She can plant a decisive blow before her antagonist has discovered that she is near enough to do it, and before the latter can get a single gun to bear accurately upon her. The range-finder gives to the fast steam war vessel a superiority similar to that controlled by the weather-gage which the admiral of by-gone years maneuvred their lofty frigates and mighty seventy-forms to obtain. It enables us to pick a distance from which we may knock the enemy to pieces without corresponding injury to ourselves or before he can reply, just as the weather-gage secured the wind as an ally to favor a choice of position by the fleet that gained it.—["The Enemy's Distance," in Harper's for June.

If you have made up your mind to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla do not be induced to take any other. A Boston lady, whose example is worthy imitation, tells her experience below:

"In one store where I went to buy Hood's Sarsaparilla the clerk tried to induce me buy their own instead of Hood's; he told me their's would last longer; that I might take it on ten days' trial; that if I did not like it I need not pay anything, etc. But he could not prevail on me to change. I told him I had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla, knew what it was, was satisfied with it, and did not want any other. When I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I was feeling real miserable with dyspepsia, and so weak that at times I could hardly stand. I looked like a person in consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla did me so much good that I wonder at myself sometimes, and my friends frequently speak of it." MRS. ELLA A. GOFF, 61 Terrace Street, Boston.

DISINFECTANT.

A small quantity sprayed about the room with an ordinary atomizer will almost instantly purify the air. A basin of diluted fluid in the room will keep the air permanently pure and wholesome. The Morning's News.

The Harvard boys held high carnival at Cambridge, Mass., Saturday night over their defeat of Yale in the base ball field, and the fact of having won first place at Berkeley Oval. A large bonfire was built on the college campus, into which one enthusiastic young collegian threw his dress coat. Early this morning some of the students decorated with red paint Boylston and Severs Halls, Appleton Chapel, the College Library, Memorial Hall and the statue of John Harvard. The buildings were ornamented with "H. 9; Y. 8," and "32," the latter indicating the number of points made by Harvard at Mott Haven. The statue was besmeared with the paint, and its inscription nearly obliterated. The granite base is discolored, and the statue badly disfigured. Memorial Hall was ornamented with the inscription, "To H—l with Yale." The steps of Boylston Hall were so covered with red paint that their original color was hidden, the paint having evidently been thrown on from a pail. A majority of the students are indignant at the outrage, and will call a mass meeting, at which the vandalism will be denounced. The students will raise a subscription with which to defray the expenses which will be incurred in removing the paint, which can only be done by hammering or chiselling the stone-work.

The board of trustees for the Baptist University has been appointed in secret session by the American Baptist Education Society, which has been in session in Chicago the past week, and the names, twenty one in all, forwarded to Mr. John D. Rockefeller for his approval. Mr Rockefeller gave more than one half of the total amount subscribed for the institution. The names of those composing the board will be announced as soon as Mr. Rockefeller's approval has been secured and notices of acceptance received. After the organization of the management of the institution is complete, work on the grounds and buildings will be immediately commenced.

Mayor Bryan of Charleston, S. C., who is in Washington, says South Carolina seems to be as much torn up by the Farmers' Alliance as any state in the South. The Alliance is working hard to control the Democratic state convention, and if it carries it its platform and candidates will be the regular Democratic party's platform and candidates, and if it fails the alliance will undoubtedly fall into line and support the platform and nominees of the convention, so there will be no independent ticket put up by the alliance.

Leprosy has increased to such an extent in Cape Colony that a hospital for lepers has been founded on Robben Island, near the African coast. Other hospitals will also be needed to deal with the evil. In India legislation is urgently demanded for the suppression of leprosy. Six lepers were lately arrested while begging in the markets of Bombay. They were tied to a tree near the court house, the magistrate hearing the case from the veranda. He sentenced them to one day's imprisonment.

The Congregational Union of England and Wales has resolved to summon an international council of Congregationalists to meet in London during the first half of July, 1891, and to consist of about 300 members, 100 for England, 100 for the United States of America and 100 for Wales, Ireland, Scotland and the colonies. The council is to be of a deliberative character.

Seven boys, who were bitten by a mad dog recently in St. Joseph, Ill., arrived in New York yesterday for treatment in the New York Pasteur Institute. When Dr. Gibier was ready to proceed with the innoculating process, five more boys were added to the list. This makes thirty-seven patients in all that have been treated at this institute since it was opened.

Rev. Sam Small, the Southern evangelist, has been elected president of the Methodist University in Ogden, Utah. He will move his family there and make Ogden his future home. This necessitates severing his connection with the Southern Methodist Conference and affiliating with the Northern Methodists.

Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Blaine yesterday visited Alexandria and attended services at Christ Church, where Washington worshiped. While Mrs. Blaine's carriage was waiting for her to return the horses became frightened, and in the runaway that followed George Lamb, Mrs. Blaine's coachman, was thrown to the ground and seriously injured internally.

The billiard contest between Schaefer and McCleery at San Francisco closed Saturday night. Schaefer scored another run of 1,000 points, which made a continuous run of 3,000 points for the three nights. McCleery had no opportunity to use his cue after the first night of the contest, when he scored 15 points. Score at close:—Schaefer, 3,004; McCleery, 15.

A letter from the Czar, written in reply to one from the Queen of Denmark, is published. In his letter the Czar promises a strict inquiry into Siberian scandals and says he will punish heavily excesses of severity on the part of officials. Lastly, he promises to instruct his ministers to draft measures of amelioration.

The northern part of Sofia, Bulgaria, has been wrecked by a hurricane. The loss of life is considerable. Among the soldiers the number of killed and injured number eleven. The loss among the inhabitants has not yet been ascertained. The damage to the Palace amounts to $200,000.

Francis C. Lowthorp, aged 81 years, once a civil engineer of note, died at Trenton, N. J., yesterday. He was the inventor of the railroad turn-table and designed many railroad bridges.

O. C. Brown, a millionaire banker of Marinette, Wisconsin, committed suicide yesterday by shooting. He had been ill and was temporarily insane.

The Reading Company's Monitor Colliery at Ashland, Pa., was worked today after an idleness of five months. It gives employment to 100 men and boys.

The French government labor bill fixes ten hours daily as the limit of men's labor in France.

A PATRIOTIC LETTER.

Mrs. Harriette L. Reed, department treasurer of the Women's Relief Corps, Boston, received a box of flowers for Memorial day, with the accompanying note:—

WESTMINSTER, Md., May 29, 1890.

With malice toward none, with charity to all, I lay at the feet of one of the defenders of the Union this wreath of Maryland flowers as a tribute to Massachusetts valor. A true daughter of the South, loving my native state with an undying love, but recognizing her as one link only in the chain which unites us in one grand, common country, I give my tears, saddened with regret for the mistaken cause for which so many of my kindred valiantly laid down their lives, and with a heart full of love and gratitude to the gallant defenders of the nation, who beneath the folds of the dear old flag sealed and cemented with their blood this "government of the people, by the people and for the people," which our martyred Lincoln declared "should not perish from the earth." I lay the laurel of victory on the grave of one of my country's defenders. Time may dim the memory and efface the pictures of sorrowing and suffering of the long and weary days of war, the dreary camp life, the painful marches, the bitter, humiliating prison life, but neither time nor change can lessen the debt of gratitude we owe to the men who offered up their lives that the Union might live. Remembering the words of our beloved Grant we will "let their heroism and sacrifices be ever green in our memory." Maryland soil, wet with the blood of some of her bravest and her best; Maryland, my Maryland, clasping in her arms and shielding on her breast the sacred dust of many a loyal son, brings with the springtime her offerings of sweetest flowers—Marguerites from the meadow and laurel from the mountain, and, weaving them into a garland, with gentle hands and throbbing heart lays it tenderly on the grave of a brave and valiant son of Massachusetts, a tribute from the home of her own beloved son, Francis Scott Key. May we, with our common love for Lincoln, whose great heart yearned for unity; remembering Grant, the beloved chieftain who, while longing for our peace, found rest and peace eternal; Lyon, the soldier's friend, the idol of the volunteer; Sheridan, the intrepid and daring soldier; and all the mighty host of that phantom army now bivouacked on the eternal fields, in the land beyond the blue, clasp hands North and South, on this blest Memorial day, and with uncovered heads and reverent hands lay our tribute of beautiful flowers above their lowly mounds, and pledge ourselves anew to the tender care of the veteran, his widow and his orphan, in the true spirit of fraternity, charity and loyalty, thus verifying the prophecy of our Grant, that "the graves of these, a grateful nation bedews with tears, honors their memories and will ever cherish and support their stricken families."

The Kabo corset that brings a woman to perfect form if she only laces it tight enough—for it never stretches or breaks its "bones" or rolls up—has soft eyelets that do not cut the laces.

Soft eyelets are loops of corset lace instead of metal eyelets.

If the Kabo corset fails in a year in any part but the steels—no way has yet been invented to make unbreakable steels—you get your money back from the store where you bought it.

You wear the Kabo corset two or three weeks; and, if not satisfactory, take it back and get your money again.

HOW LONG?

How long between the midnight and the dawning
Stretch the sad hours away?
How long between the storming and the calming
Shall the moon hold her sway?

How long between the gladness and the grieving,
How long between it all?
How long between the watching and the sleeping,
Between the hush and call?
How long between the doubting and believing,
The silence and the song?
How long between the wandering and the home-rest?
How long, my God! how long?
—[Anna B. Bensel, in Boston Transcript.

As unto the bow the cord is,
So unto the man is woman,
Though she bends him, she obeys him,
Though she draws him, yet she follows;
Useless each without the other.

PERSONALS.

....King George of Greece is a grandfather at 44 years old.

....Ex-President Cleveland has expressed an intention to be present at the Harvard commencement exercises.

....Professor Charles H. Smith of Bowdoin has accepted the appointment of professor of American history at Yale, and will terminate his connection with Bowdoin at the close of the present term.

....Miss Dolores Marbourg, the author of one of last year's popular novels, has gone to Europe for a prolonged residence and literary work. She has just finished a new novel written in collaboration with George Cary Eggleston.

....Lady Annie Blunt, Lord Byron's granddaughter, her husband and their daughter are living on the borders of the desert in Egypt, about six miles from Cairo. They have adopted the Arab dress, with the primitive customs of that race, and live a life of simplicity.

....The German Emperor's Russian visit will be of three weeks' duration. After the manœuvres at Krasnoe-Selo he will undertake a journey through the western part of Russia, visiting Moscow, Kiev and Warsaw, where preparations are already being made for his reception.

....Emperor William has declined to allow the Berlin magistracy to receive subscriptions for the erection of a monument to his father, the late Emperor Frederick. He declares that he feels it to be his duty to raise the proposed memorial himself, and he wishes to defray all the expenses connected with it.

....Mrs. J. G. Blaine, Jr.,'s appearance at the New York theatres is now quite frequent. Her removal some weeks since to a private hospital had the effect of making so marked an improvement in her health that she has partially regained the use of her disabled leg, and no danger is apprehended that she will be permanently crippled. Mrs. Blaine has lost a great deal in weight by her long illness, but she is still a remarkably pretty and interesting woman.

....Mrs. E. C. Cabot of Brookline, Mass., daughter of the late Hon. Samuel E. Sewall, has expressed her desire to give to the town of Melrose a portion of the fine estate of her late father. The estate comprises 28 acres, and the Woman's Club has appointed a committee to solicit contributions and take such active measures as will secure in addition to this gift of Mrs. Cabot the whole estate, which is comprised in great part of fine woods, and to set this apart as a Sewall Memorial Park for the citizens of Melrose.

REMARKABLE DEFINITION OF INFLUENZA.

The Indian papers print a short essay on influenza, written by a Baboo, at the request of a gentleman to whom he applied for a situation. In it he says:—"As I am requested by your honor to write an essay on influenza, all I can say is that this infernal epidemic, which has fallen on our mother country like a great calamity, is caused by the concentrated efforts of minute bacti of the animalcule tribe of unforeseen microscopical animal life. Like the old plagues of Egypt, it is deteriorating in the extreme, carrying its venomenous degenerating contamination through every household families, not excepting your humble servant, who has suffered too much the details of fever in its augmented state with a pertinacity that would have done the heart of Esculapius good to have interviewed. Notwithstanding, nevertheless, I am now all square, hence my ability to write this hard subject matter. Although this infernal, inhuman disease is not dangerous, except for the old decrepid, one foot in the grave sort of paralytic people, yet is frought with two great after sequences, such as pneumonia, bronchitis, catarrh, et hoc genus omne (you see I am versed in few Latin terms), causing thereby some care to be taken with ourselves afterward. It is great pity your honor asked me to write such kind of great, difficult, inexperienced task, no B. A., I am sure, would be spritely enough to attempt to undertake such eccentric task without purloining his intellectual faculties to the utmost tension. Your honor will kindly excuse me writing to a greater length, although I could give much information on the statistic of this great and down-felling disease on bed with all items of fever and nose-running all day and night. My wife is still suffering, but I am earnestly working the oracle with the gods to millimise the malady by giving alms and all things to poor, helpless beggars, asking much from your humble servant, who is at present greatly impecunious for want of job, two children besides wife and myself to feed. Hoping to be favored by your kind consideration."

Shaker Extract of Roots,

(Seigel's Syrup)

CURES

Dyspepsia.

HE THOUGHT IT WAS A HUMBUG.

Nine years ago I suffered from indigestion and dyspepsia; had heartburn and palpitation. No food would stay on my stomach; tried many so-called remedies without effect. Received a Shaker almanac and read it. I said, Here's another humbug! I was wrong for once. Bought a bottle of Shaker Extract of Roots in Columbia, Tenn. Then another and another. After the third bottle I was well; never been sick since. This is a medicine to tie to—to trust in. It is not a patent medicine nor a King Cure-all. It cures dyspepsia and indigestion and that is at the bottom of most diseases. I would as soon be without money as without "Shaker."
W. J. POWERS.
Henryville, Tenn., Feb. 7, 1890.

Nine-tenths of all diseases arise from poisons carried by the blood to various organs and parts of the body; and the blood is poisoned by undigested food in the stomach and intestines. Shaker Extract of Roots purifies the blood by curing indigestion and dyspepsia. Price 60 cents per bottle. Sold by all druggists and by —The ladies of the Loan Collection committee are busy today arranging the pictures which are to be shown to the public for the next four days. They now have eleven of the works of Malbone, and over two hundred other miniatures, most of them of great beauty and value. The directors of the Providence Athenæum met today to decide about loaning the "Hours." If the decision is favorable the picture will be brought down tomorrow, and Captain Garnett of the police will probably be the man to go for it. It is known that a number of the directors approve of loaning the picture to Newport. The miniature catalogue will be ready in the morning, and will be sold at the Woman's Exchange, Washington square, and at the exhibition. The beautiful print of Malbone's Hon. Ray Greene which adorns it is well worth the low price, ten cents, asked.

SUNDAY AT THE BEACH.

An unusually large number of people visited the beach yesterday, the crowd being the largest ever seen there on the first day of June. Mr. Crosby has opened his restaurant, and the piazzas are covered with chairs, and the familiar smell of clam chowder permeates the air. Children were wading near the shore, and a few persons, who are still alive, have actually tested their constitutions with a bath. Dogs frolicked in the surf, parties were seen near by eating their luncheons, which they had brought with them, and there was a general impression that the season of 1890 had actually opened. Open street cars brought the visitors and a few drags were pressed into service. Mr. Crosby states that his opening is at least two weeks ahead of time, but he says that the people insist upon coming and he must, therefore, although at a loss financially, try and care for them. Quite a crowd also congregated at Bailey's beach. The Cliffs were lined with promenaders and the drives were thronged with all kinds of equipages.

THE SUMMER POLICE.

The summer arrangement of the police, by which the number of the force is increased to forty men, went into effect yesterday and will continue through the months of June, July, August and September. The day force is increased to twelve men. Officer Wilcox leaves the Thames street beat and go upon the Cliffs; Officer Steele goes to the beach from the First ward; Officer McCormick is sent further down Bellevue avenue and will patrol from Ruggles avenue to Bailey's beach; Officer Harrington goes to Miantonomi hill and the northern part of Broadway; Officer Northup will be mounted and patrol the section embraced by Wellington, Castle Hill, Ocean and Coggeshall avenues, with the intersecting roads through the King, Glover and Bradley lands. These are the new patrols. Officer Dring takes Officer Steele's beat on the Point; Officer Clark takes Officer Wilcox's place on Thames street; Officer Esbeck takes the Broadway and West Broadway patrol; Officer Ackers will be in the vicinity of Morton Park; Officer Albro is returned to upper Bellevue avenue and Catherine street, and Officers Moore and Easton are placed on sections of Bellevue avenue.

During the night Officer Oliver Dewick will patrol the Cliffs, and Officer Eckhardt will be the mounted patrol on the beat occupied by Officer Northup during the day. Central Thames street will be patrolled by Officers Tozier and Weaver, Officers Ring and Malley on upper Thames street and Washington square; Officers J. H. Dewick and Simpson on the Point; Officers Barker and Mathewson on Broadway and West Broadway; Officers Davis and Flynn, Kay and Catherine streets and Bellevue avenue, south to Beach street; Officers James and Caswell, Bellevue avenue, south to Webster street; Officers Chase and Crane, Bellevue avenue, south of Webster street, and Officers Kenny and Dugan, Fifth ward and lower Thames street.

A NEW PARK FOR PROVIDENCE.

The Cable Tramway Company of Providence has a surprise in store for the Eastside people, and will open up this week a new public place of entertainment at a place which has been coveted by people desirous of developing a resort which they have acknowledged would be without its superior in New England. On the banks of the broad and picturesque Seekonk river, and forming a portion of the eastern boundary of this city, is a natural park, fifty-six acres in area, with beautiful groves, shady dells with tangled undergrowth of bush and luxurious vines, sparkling brooks and cooling springs, and a high bluff which overlooks the river and the city of Pawtucket, and at the foot of which winds a river road for carriages. On this bluff, and hidden among the trees, last year was created a picturesque private residence. This house was, a few days ago, purchased by President Richmond of the tramway company, and tomorrow morning a gang of carpenters will begin extensive alterations upon it. Its interior will be reconstructed to fit it for public uses, and a 16-foot-wide veranda will extend around three sides of it. This, with the park, will be thrown open to the public, and free of all expense, in a few days. A large fleet of pleasure boats is to be placed on the river at once, with a convenient and attractive landing. The idea is to give to the women and children a water park, which is so situated that it catches the ocean breeze, and at the same time but 10 minutes' ride from the heart of the city.—[Providence Journal.

THE NEW BATTLESHIPS.

The three new battleships provided for under an appropriation of $4,000,000 in the Senate bill which passed recently are in many respects similar to the Baltimore, Charleston, Newark and cruisers Nos. 4 and 5. They will be 340 feet, 2 inches long over all, 71 feet, 6 inches beam, and 25 feet, 10½ inches extreme draught. Each of these measurements exceeds those of our largest first-class cruisers, though in the matter of speed the new cruisers will make 17 knots, while the Charleston, Baltimore and Newark have a speed of 18, 19 and 18 knots respectively. The new vessels will have 11,000 horse power, while the Baltimore has 10,750.

The hulls of the new ships will be practically unsinkable, the board designing them to withstand a severe riddling at the water line, and yet maintain a metacentric height of 2 feet, 8 inches. They are provided with a double bottom, and watertight bulkheads longitudinal and athwartships. Their protection will consist of an armored deck 8 inches thick, each deck supplemented by a belt 5 inches thick extending the entire length of the ship. A belt of woodite 12 feet thick will protect the hull at the water line between the armor deck and the berth deck.

The new ships will be fitted with two conning towers and two turrets. The forward conning tower will have 14 inches of armor, and the after one 5 inches. The two turrets will also be mounted fore and aft, each covered with 10-inch armor on a 6-inch backing, with 1½ inches inside skin and 3-inch aprons in front of the ports. Ten 5-inch rapid-fire guns are to be mounted on the main and superstructure decks, protected by 3-inch barbettes and 3 inch all-round shields. Twelve six pounder rapid-fire guns and two 37-millimeter revolving cannon will complete the armament. The engines are practically the same as those of the 8,150 ton vessels now awaiting bids.

JAMESTOWN.

There has probably never occurred a town meeting of such vital importance to the future welfare and growth of Jamestown as that held at the Town Hall last Saturday afternoon. This was a special meeting called to act upon the report of a special committee upon water supply, this committee having been authorized to negotiate for a supply of water, the town agreeing to take for present use twenty hydrants at a price not to exceed $30 per hydrant. The committee immediately, upon appointment, opened communications with several contractors with a view of closing with the one who would put in the best system and at the same time guarantee to have the water running in a few weeks' time. After consultation with several parties it was decided to place the proposition made by Mr. George H. Norman before the town. The result is given below. The meeting was called to order with Mr. John W. Potter as moderator, and Charles E. Weeden as clerk. The committee on water supply presented their report, which contained the following proposition of Mr. George H. Norman:—

I will construct complete water works for the supply of Jamestown, take the supply for the present from springs near Sheffield's pond, construct an iron reservoir on the highland near Howland avenue, water mains from said springs to the reservoir, and through such streets as may be designated by the town committee, not exceeding in all 13,000 feet, and will furnish and connect twenty-five hydrants to be used only for the extinguishment of fires and the practice of the fire department at such points on said lines of pipes as the committee may designate, and will extend said mains as the town may order from time to time, by the town locating at least one hydrant to every five hundred feet of additional mains, and will furnish water for all domestic and manufacturing uses at rates not higher than now charged by the Newport Water Works; and will furnish water to the town for sprinkling streets and flushing sewers at a rate not exceeding fifteen cents per 1,000 gallons. I will restore all streets and roads in as good condition as before the pipes are laid, and will hold the town harmless from any claim for damage for any injury to man or beast caused by constructing said works, provided the town will renew the exclusive right of way to the Jamestown Light and Water Company to lay pipes in all the streets and roads in the part of Jamestown south of the cross road running by the Cedar Cemetery, from shore to shore, for the purpose of selling water for domestic, manufacturing and public use, for the term of thirty years; and provided the town will pay the sum of $30 per annum for each hydrant, and a sum each year not less than the amount of taxes paid by said company for the year; and the said Norman further proposes that the town shall have the option to purchase the said water works plant and all of its incidents on the expiration of twenty years from the execution of the said contract, at a reasonable price, to be agreed upon by two disinterested men, one of whom is to be chosen by the town, and one by said Norman, and if the men so chosen fail to agree upon the price, the two men to agree upon a third man, and then at a price to be agreed upon by two of the three men. That if my proposition is accepted by the town Saturday, the 31st, work will commence in the town Wednesday, June 4, and continue until the 13,000 feet of pipe is laid, and that portion which is to reach the hotels near the landing, and the sewers, will be ready for use in six weeks."

Town Clerk Weeden then drew up the following paper, which was unanimously adopted after a long debate:

"Upon the report of George C. Carr, Daniel Watson and Elijah Anthony, a committee to contract for the introduction of water into the town of Jamestown, and for certain hydrants, etc., presenting a proposition of George H. Norman of Newport to introduce water upon the terms and conditions in said propositions contained and set forth,

"It is voted and resolved, That the said proposition of the said George H. Norman be, and the same is hereby, accepted by the said town, and that Thomas H. Clark, Elijah Anthony and William H. Gardner be, and hereby are, fully authorized and empowered to enter into a contract with said Norman, his executors, administrators and assignees, for the introduction of water, and the doing the matter and things in the said proposition contained, with full power to bind the town to the execution of the said contract on its part, and that said committee be authorized to locate said hydrants, and to inspect the laying of said pipes, and setting of said hydrants, or employ some competent person to do so, and to arrange with Mr. Norman for flushing the sewers free of charge."

The objectors to the water works presented all kinds of complaints against the proposition, some of which were certainly quite absurd. Some thought that no price should be charged for water with which to sprinkle streets and flush sewers; others were afraid that Mr. Norman proposed to make a great deal of money out of the operation. The principal objection, and the one that caused the most controversy, was the remission of the tax upon the works for thirty years, and at one time it was feared by the water men that this matter would defeat the whole project. An attempt was made to keep the polls open until 7 o'clock, that the opposers of water might bring in voters to defeat the project.

After considerable discussion this was defeated by a vote of 18 to 3. After the resolution had been almost unanimously adopted and the water men were feeling quite happy at their success, a dash of cold water was thrown upon their enthusiasm by a voter who asked if the meeting was a legal one, in view of the fact that the polling list had not been canvassed. It was finally decided that previous rules and customs had been followed in the calling of the meeting and that all was regular.

The meeting then adjourned. The town council met immediately after the adjournment of the town meeting and Mr. Samuel Smith was drawn on the grand jury and Mr. Frederick Anthony on the petit, for the circuit court which meets in Providence the 16th inst.

Amos Peckham's bill for cutting lumber for the plank walk on the Shore road, amounting to $17.57, was allowed.

Mr. Alvin H. Peckham was granted permission to move a hen coop through the streets.

Messrs. Thomas H. Clarke, Elijah Anthony and Henry Gardner, the committee appointed by the town meeting on Saturday, met Mr. G. H. Norman at the office of Mr. Daniel Watson this morning, and arrangements were agreed upon with him for putting in the works at once. The water will be obtained near Clarke's icehouse, possibly on the Green farm at that point, where a storage reservoir will be built. It will be forced to a standpipe located near Howland avenue on top of the hill not far from High street. The main pipe will be run through Howland avenue to High, to Green lane, through Green lane to Narragansett avenue and thence to Walcott avenue, along shore, north as far as Champlin's Hotel on the Bryer plat; also to High and Walcott avenue south to Admiral Porter's cottage, and will extend on Narragansett avenue as far west as the churches. Mr. G. Norman Weaver and a son of Mr. Norman are in town today making a cursory survey. Workmen will commence at once upon the reservoir, pumping station and standpipe, and it is proposed to have water at the hotels in six weeks' time.

GREAT RUN OF SMALL SCUP.

For the past ten days there has been the greatest run of small scup that has been known for many years. They extend all along the shores from Stonington to Cape Cod. All the traps and pounds have been solid with them. These fish are too small to be serviceable for any purpose. They do not average over three inches in length, but there are many millions of them, and Captain D. T. Church says:—"There are scup enough in this present run to shingle the whole service of the United States two tiers deep, and then there would be scup left." Next year these scup will be edible, but two years hence, and still better three years, there will be plenty of large scup. At the start, this season, the scup that were taken at Seaconnet were large, but they were not very numerous. The run was short, and not much wealth was stocked by the fishermen.—[Fall River News.

THE SCHOOL OF EXPRESSION.

S. S. Curry, Ph. D., principal of the School of Expression, is in town today making arrangements for the summer session of that institution, which will be held at the Rogers High School building in this city. The school was formerly a department of Boston University, but since 1885 has been incorporated as a distinct institution, holding its sessions in winter in Boston and in summer in various places. The school has met in Martha's Vineyard, Saratoga, Boston and Lancaster, Mass., and now comes to Newport with a possibility of its being held here in summers as a permanency. The term begins July 5 and lasts five weeks and is usually attended by clergymen, teachers in the leading advanced schools and colleges and students. At Saratoga seven denominations of clergymen and last year twenty-one states were represented among the attendants. During the summer Professor John W. Churchill will give a course of lectures and readings and Mr. J. T. Powers will give impersonations. It is probable that a public meeting will also be given during the term.

BASE BALL.

The New Hampshire nine visited Fort Adams Saturday afternoon and opened the season with the Fort nine in a game marked by good batting by the visitors, good pitching by Convery and rather rusty work by the soldiers, who were evidently out of practice. The game was played on the parade ground, inside the garrison, which was in good condition, and was viewed by a number of spectators, some of whom took advantage of the fine grand stand privileges afforded by the ramparts. Doyle made his re-appearance with the ship nine, and was evidently out of practice. The battery work of Convery and Hartman was excellent, as was the catching of Hoover for the soldiers. The score is as follows:—

Struck out—Off Convery, 15; off Hughes, 5. Bases on balls 3 each. Passed balls—5 each. Wild pitches—Hughes, 5.

The Aquidnecks and Newports play on the Morton Park grounds at 2.30 tomorrow.

A number of the young men employed by the E. Read Goodridge Manufacturing Company, and who formerly belonged in Easthampton, Mass., where more base ball is played than in Newport, have organized a base ball nine, and have been presented by Mr. Goodridge, head of the firm, and who takes considerable interest in base ball, with a complete outfit, consisting of gray flannel uniforms with E. R. G. Co. on the breasts; gray caps with blue trimmings; dark blue stockings, shoes, masks, etc., from A. G. Spalding & Co. The uniforms arrived Saturday, when the club was organized as follows:—Captain, E. F. O'Brien; treasurer, James Bannister; financial secretary, George Schnitzer. The nine is composed as follows:—Catcher, Michael Harrington; pitcher, Edward J. Ferris; first base, John L. O'Brien; second base, James Bannister; third base, E. F. O'Brien; short stop, Dave Gilbertson; left field, T. J. Ferris; centre field, George Avelone; right field, William Luth.

As the company gives the employees a half holiday on Saturday during summer, the nine will be prepared to play games on Saturday afternoons with any shop or fair picked nine in the city, and will probably give a good account of themselves, as there are some good players in the nine.

SOCIETY IN PARIS.

A cable despatch to the New York Herald says:—

Bright, sunshiny weather has greatly added to the increasing pleasures of the Parisian season. There is a constant variety of changes from recent departures to new arrivals. The happiest and most popular fashionable pastimes are the coaching parties to Versailles and St. Germain.

A private four-in-hand party was given Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. William C. Whitney. Mrs. Whitney occupied the box seat, and the guests included Miss Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Barney, Mrs. Randolph and Colonel Payne.

Other coaching parties, on the "Magnet" and "Rocket," were Mr. Ridgeway, Mr. and Mrs. Whitelaw Reid, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gardner, Miss Eustis, Mr. Tiffany, Mr. Jesse Brown, Mr. Rathbone, Miss MacKondray, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. George Duddleston, Mrs. Beyland, Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Jay, the Misses Ritchie and Post, Mr. W. H. Howard, Sir Cecil and Lady Domville.

Mr. Douglas Grant is in Paris for a few days.

Mrs. Brockholst Cutting has returned from Homburg to the Hotel Vendome. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sloane leave Paris on the 15th. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gardner of Boston have gone to London en route to Oberammergau.

Mr. Harry Le Grand Cannon and Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart are in Paris.

POLICE NOTES.

James H. Russell, a tramp, has been sent out of town.

Daniel Tehan has been fined $2 and costs for using indecent language.

Edward Henry of Sharon court gave three officers, Kenny, Dugan and Crowley, all the work they could do last night. Henry was drunk and was unaware until this morning of the extent of the damage which he had done. The trousers worn by Officer Kenny were badly torn and the prisoner bit the officer. This morning Henry was charged with assaulting all three of the officers and as many warrants were served upon him. He pleaded not guilty and his case was continued until Friday.

Jupiter Pluve was coming down the street in a perfect torrent, when a little Ray of Sunshine poked itself about the corner. "Get back where you come from," said old dampness, "or I'll sprinkle you in the eye." "Very well. If you will only sprinkle me I will give a rainbow for the insult, but if you continue on in your injury of drowning me, I cannot hold myself responsible for what will become of everything. Without my smile this will be a dreary world."—[Hartford Times.

Experiments recently made in Spain show that sunlight has an important action in maturing wines. Layers of new wine in bottles of colored glass have been exposed to the direct rays of the sun, with the result that both the flavor and quality have been improved. In the south of Europe there has been a practice of ripening cognac by exposing the bottles on the roof for years.

Notable Anniversaries.

1850—Count Cavour, eminent Italian statesman, becomes minister of foreign affairs in Sardinia and begins to lay foundation of kingdom of Italy.
1862—General John A. Dix takes command at Fortress Monroe.
1866—Fenians cross the Niagara river and meet with a repulse.
1877—Death of the Queen of Netherlands, aged 59.

Anemones are now growing in vast quantities in Great Britain. Formerly they only came to England in cardboard boxes, sent by friends spending the winter on the Riviera or on the mountain plateaus of the Pyrenees. In 1875 their propagation was begun on a large scale in England by Mr. Barr, sometimes called the "Daffodil King," and the species which is so numerous in the south of France, the Pyrenees and Greece is now to be had very cheaply from English gardeners.

The management of the Daily News Job Office does not pretend to do work at less than cost, or at less than any other office. It does intend, however, to do good work, and to this end much money is spent in the best machinery and material, and only the best of everything is used. Careful and experienced workmen are employed that the best results may be attained.

Prices are made as reasonable as the kind of work can be afforded, and customers are treated so they will come again. There is a sufficient number of people in Newport who appreciate this way of dealing to keep a large and fully equipped office in constant operation. Every kind of book, pamphlet and commercial work is done in a way to satisfy a discriminating customer.
